ESTATE OF YARON UNGAR
v. PALESTINE AUTHORITY
00 CA 105(L)

Statement in Support of Pro Hac Vice Application of Ramsey Clark and Lawrence W. Schilling

This case involves the following complex area of the law and complex issues, among others, in which proposed associate trial counsel has special expertise and has previously represented the PLO.

Whether the Palestine Authority and the PLO are States under international law or whether they are entitled for various purposes to be treated as States and entitled to some or all of the privileges and immunities to which States are entitled; alternatively, their form of legal organization for purposes of litigation in the United States, including their capacity to be sued in U.S. courts; the amenability to service of process of all Palestinian defendants, including the individual officials named as defendants and the PLO and PA considered in the light of the status of Palestine as Observer at the United Nations and the rights and immunities that arise from this relationship with the United Nations; issues presented by the legislative or judicial assertion that U.S. courts can exercise jurisdiction over events occurring and claims arising far outside the United States and having little or no connection with the U.S.

See as examples of prior experience in this area of law relevant to these issues: Klinghoffer v. S.N.C. Achille Lauro, 937 F.2d 44 (2d Cir. 1991) and United States v. PLO, 695 F.Supp. 1456 (S.D.N.Y. 1988).
